Liz to Fly to Mike's Rites

Funeral Will Be Held Tuesday At Lake Zurich Near Chicago for Producer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Raven-haired Elizabeth Taylor, who found love in the flamboyant world of Mike Todd, prepared to fly to Chicago late today for the funeral Tuesday of the famous producer.

The grief-stricken actress has been secluded in her Coldwater Canyon home, attended by Dr. Rexford Kennamer and her friends, since hearing the numbing news that Todd and three others had died in an air crash early Saturday morning near Grants, N. M. For a time she was hysterical. But Sunday night came word:

"Liz is going to be all right now. She finally realizes that Mike is really dead."

Miss Taylor, her brother Howard Taylor, Kennamer, Singer Eddie Fisher and four others leave tonight to arrive in time for services Tuesday at Lake Zurich, northwest of Chicago.

She had fought the realization of the death of her husband stubbornly—alternately crying in despair and sitting sobered and then talking rapidly about the life she and Todd had planned.

"No, no, no. It just can't be. He'll phone me soon—he always does when he's out of town," she cried. "Every time I hear the phone ring, I think it might be Mike."

Only a virus condition which kept the actress abed prevented Miss Taylor from being at Todd's side when their private plane, "Lucky Liz," plunged into New Mexico's Zuni Mountains.

Tragedy struck on the event of acclaim and triumph for both Todd and his wife. He was to have been honored as "Showman of the Year" by the Friars Club in New York City Sunday night.

Miss Taylor was a candidate for an Oscar for her performance in "Raintree County." She was to have appeared at the Awards presentations Wednesday night. Actress Jennifer Jones will take her place now.

Todd was a doting husband to Elizabeth Taylor, granting her slightest wishes. He swamped the dark-eyed beauty with furs and jewelry, fancy cars, homes and affection.

He also fought with her, publicly and privately, at home and abroad. "We like to fight," he said after one altercation in London.

The child star who grew up to become one of the screen's great beauties was Todd's third wife. Their daughter, Lizza, was born last August.

Previously he was married to Bertha Freshman, who died after surgery in 1946. His son by that marriage, Michael Jr., 28, lives in New York. Todd later married actress Joan Blondell, from whom he was divorced in 1950.

Eisenhower Ready to Send Jobless Pay Bill to Congress

Expect President to Sign Housing Bill, Veto Farm Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today put final touches on an administration anti-recession plan to add up to 13 more weeks of unemployment benefits to relieve jobless hardship and create new buying power.

The measure is expected to go to Congress shortly. Administration sources said the Treasury would put up the necessary money but the states would be expected to pay it back eventually. This appeared to clear up an earlier misunderstanding on the part of some governors that the funds were to be a federal gift.

The Chief Executive, rested and slightly sunnied from a week-end golfing holiday at Augusta, Ga., also has before him two anti-recession bills recently passed by the Democratic-controlled Congress.

He is expected to sign into law one of the measures—a $1,850,000 housing bill—even though it calls for a bigger money outlay than he had planned.

But he is likely to veto the second bill, to freeze farm price supports for one year, despite a last-ditch plea from Senate Majority Leader Lydon B. Johnson.

Johnson said Sunday a Presidential veto would be "a crushing blow" to agriculture and would add to unemployment by further reducing farm purchasing power and hence, the demand for manufactured goods.

Eisenhower is expected to stand squarely behind Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson's charge that the legislation would force up food prices "unjustifiably."

The President also may consider what, if any, action to take on the problem of tax relief. Vice President Nixon said over the weekend that he personally favored a cut in taxes over an expansion of public works. But he reported the administration hadn't decided which should have priority if further anti-recession steps become necessary.

—Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N.H.), chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, repeated an earlier prediction that there will be a tax cut. He said he would oppose any early reduction unless the economy got "appreciably worse."

Assistant Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) agreed there eventually will be a tax cut. He also called for a slash in excise taxes.

Was Completing Third Term as County Official

Death of Clerk, 35, Occurs in Veterans Hospital

County Clerk Don B. Garrison, who would have been 35 years old April 13, died this morning at Marion Veterans hospital, where he was taken late yesterday.

Mr. Garrison, who was completing his third four-year term as Saline county clerk this year, had been in poor health the past two years and had been in a serious condition the past three weeks. When his condition became critical yesterday he was taken by ambulance to the veterans hospital.

The body of Mr. Garrison was returned to Eldorado today by the Martin funeral home and there it will lie in state. He was a resident of Eldorado, living at 2117 Main street in that city.

Mr. Garrison, born in Eldorado, attended the public schools there and was graduated from Eldorado Township high school.

On Sept. 23, 1942 he enlisted in the Air Corps and became an aerial gunner with the rating of staff sergeant. He went to Europe May 5, 1943, and saw his first action that year as a Flying Fortress waist gunner.

On his 22nd mission he was shot down Oct. 10, 1943, over Munster, Germany. This resulted in the loss of his right leg and nine months as a prisoner of war in Germany.

Before being elected to his first term as county clerk in 1946, he served on the staff of Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett in Springfield. His politics were Democratic.

Survivors include his wife, Edna, and a daughter, Letitia Lou, who will be seven years old April 13; his mother, Mildred Garrison of Eldorado, a brother, Oman, in the U. S. Navy in San Francisco; and a half-brother, Raymond Garrison of Detroit. His father was the late Oman Garrison Sr.

He was a member of the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Harrisburg Elks Lodge No. 1058.

Funeral plans were incomplete.

Report by Probers Says $10 Million Stolen, Misused by Union Officials

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Rackets Committee reported today that union officials, including an infiltration of "gangsters and hoodlums," have "stolen, embezzled or misused" more than 10 million dollars from five unions.

It said the 15-year total amounts to "an average of $5 out of the pocket of every member of the unions covered." The statements were contained in a 12,000-word first installment of the committee's formal report on its first year's operations.

One committee member—Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich.)—labeled the financial estimates an unsupported "statistical perversion." In a sharply worded dissent he said the report had an "anti-labor bias" making it read like "a blanket indictment of the labor movement."

The five unions covered by the committee report were the Teamsters, Bakers, Operating Engineers, United Textile Workers and Allied

Successor Will Be Appointed By County Board

No Business by Office Until New Clerk Is Named

On directions of Attorney General Latham Castle of the State of Illinois, the Saline county clerk's office was closed this morning until a successor can be appointed to succeed Clerk Don B. Garrison, who died today. Appointment will be made by the Saline County Board of Supervisors.

It was not known just how long the office will be closed. State's Attorney Robert V. Wilson said the statutes provide for the following:

If a county clerk dies, one-third of the members of the county board petitions the county judge to call a special meeting to appoint a successor. The county judge decides on how much notice to the board members of the special meeting is needed and the judge then sends out the notices to the board members.

Stops Absentee Voting
The judge to whom the board members will petition is County Judge Trafton Diggins.

With the clerk's office closed on account of the death, no business whatsoever can be transacted until the new clerk is appointed, the attorney general said.

State's Attorney Wilson stated that when appointment is made the appointee will fill bond, take the oath of office and get his commission from the Governor.

And with the office closed it has stopped the machinery for the primary election April 8.

Wilson stated that some absentee ballots already have been voted and that those now in the ballot box are valid. Ballots mailed out and not returned as yet will in all probability be held by the postmaster until the new clerk is qualified, he added.

No other absentee ballots will be sent out until a new clerk is appointed by the board, he explained.

Ballots Must Be Stamped
When the new clerk takes over, he continued, all of the Saline county ballots, which already are printed and bear the facsimile of Don B. Garrison as county clerk, must be stamped above Garrison's signature with the facsimile of the new clerk.

All the employees of the office went home between 10:30 and 11 a. m. and turned over their office keys to State's Attorney Wilson.

The county board is scheduled to hold an organization meeting in April. It was learned that a petition calling for such a meeting to be held April 11 already has been filed in the clerk's office and was signed by the clerk. However, no notices were sent out to the board members notifying them of the meeting and since the office is now closed, the status of the petition was in doubt. State's Attorney Wilson said he believed the calling of this meeting will be up to the county judge, also.

An Overhauling Needed

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

The headlines are going to startling disclosures of pressure and influence, as Congress pushes its inquiry into the FCC and other regulatory agencies. This is as it should be. But other parts of the story are almost equally astonishing, and deserve the lawmakers' fullest attention.

Few people in the country are as well informed of the practices and procedures of the FCC and other commissions as are the lawyers who handle the cases that come before them. It is their overwhelming conviction that the agencies generally do a very bad job.

In a survey the New York Times queried many lawyers experienced in commission practice, including some who have won their cases, some who have lost, and some who are reputed to have strong "political pull." They all deplored FCC and other agency operations.

Their criticisms boil down to these points:

1. The business of allotting new television channels can take from two to five years to decide, depending on whether or not the matter gets into the courts.

2. The cost of this drawn-out procedure can be immense. Some estimate the total cost for all applicants in certain big cases ranges from $500,000 to $1,000,000. This has nothing to do with actually fitting out a TV station, but simply concerns application for a channel.

3. In the long hearings preliminary to decision, a commission examiner piles up mountains of testimony. But the lawyers say the commissioners, who make the final decision, have little regard for the examiner's recommendations and almost never look at the record amassed at such cost in money and time.

4. The commissioners do not write their own opinions. They decide which applicant they favor, and then a staff of opinion writers develops the reasoning to support their choice.

It's as if one judge heard the testimony, another made the decision, and a third wrote the opinion. In the lawyers' view this separation of function makes for arbitrariness, opens the way for influence to be exercised upon the commissioners, and is basically a fraudulent procedure.

Even the standards the commissioners do try to apply in weighing applicants seem built on sand. For a winning applicant, who may have gained the verdict narrowly over another in a three-year contest, can sell out in a few months to a totally different outfit that meets only minimum legal and technical requirements. It happens many times.

It begins to look as if the FCC—and any other agencies which follow similar procedures in allotting licenses or routes or determining rates—need an exhaustive overhauling from top to bottom. The glaring headlines would appear only to underscore this need.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND by DREW PEARSON

Drew Pearson Says: Speaker
Sam T. Smith Summerfield To Go Peddle His Stamp; Senators
Once Cooled Over Mack Appointment; Dulles Turns Back
On Indonesian Rebels.

WASHINGTON — Cabinet members should know better than try to influence Speaker Sam Rayburn by any means other than what's good for the U.S.A. Certainly Postmaster General Summerfield should know this—now. He made Sam a political offer the other day and was almost kicked out of the Speaker's office.

"You know," Sam told friends afterward, "that little — came in here and tried to buy my vote."

"He wanted me to go for the five-cent stamp. And when I said no, he turned on a chummy cat smile and said: 'Mr. Sam, you could use a few nice post offices in your district, couldn't you?'"

Mr. Sam didn't detail what happened after that, but his aides say the Postmaster General left immediately.

Note—During the Senate debate on the five-cent stamp, the Postmaster General moved into Vice President Nixon's office while a stream of Republicans, plus some Democrats, filed in to get promises of new post offices. Summerfield had a map on the desk. Under the new post office construction bill a lot of new post offices will be built, and a lot of them were pledged just before that Senate vote.

FAIR-HEALED MACK

To get an idea how the U. S.
Senate has been shirking responsibility for checking on the qualifications of public officials, here is the record of the Senate Commerce committee showing how senators virtually kissed Richard Mack on both cheeks when they first confirmed him as a commissioner to the FCC in 1955.

The Senate committee spent about 10 minutes staging not an investigation of Mack's record, but a sort of backslapping reception for Mack.

Sen. George Smathers of Miami welcomed: "We are most pleased that the President has seen fit to send over his (Mack's) name as a nominee. It has been my pleasure to have known Richy Mack for about 20 or 25 years and I have always known him to be a very wonderful young man, conscientious in the things he has done and very able in the jobs which he has undertaken, and it is my own belief that he will make an excellent member of the commission."

This was not what Sen. Smathers said three years later, after Mack got in hot water. "On March 5, 1958, Sen. Smathers stated: 'I have never had any close personal association with him.'"

The glowing endorsement Smathers had given Mack three years earlier was on June 16, 1955. If he had read the Washington Merry-Go-Round, as Smathers always does when Florida is mentioned, he would have noted on May 27, 1955 that Mack was described as "a Florida utilities commissioner reported to be a friend of the telephone company." Smathers had three weeks to check further on Mack. Instead, he eulogized him.

Sen. Holland of Florida did the same. He said Mack would do "a splendid job," had a "wealth of experience which should highly qualify him," etc.

THE ONLY SENATOR WHO BOOTHERED

to ask critical questions was Mike Monroney of Oklahoma, a former newspaperman. Other senators buoyantly, joyously embraced the Florida commissioner who later was to be fired from the FCC.

AD FOR INDO-REBELS

Most interesting inside development at the recent SEATO conference — aside from intimations by our Asiatic allies that they wanted to pull out of SEATO — was a visit of Indonesian rebels to Manila. They hoped to see John Foster Dulles to urge aid for the revolt against President Sukarno and his allegedly Red-infiltrated government.

Dulles refused to see them on the ground that he couldn't be in the position of encouraging rebellion against President Sukarno, but the rebels did see other Asiatic representatives of the Free World, including the Philippines, and arrangements were made to give them undercover aid.

The Indonesian revolt was one of the most important questions discussed at the meeting. Optimism prevailed that the rebels would win.

DANGEROUS SUB REDUCTION

Secretary of Defense McElroy cut the Navy's request for Polaris submarines from nine to six at the personal suggestion of President Eisenhower. This was a very significant cut and in direct contrast to the administration's claim of all-out defense effort.

But at a White House meeting, like questioned the military value of the submarines even though they'll be able to fire 16 Polaris missiles 1,200 miles from under the ocean. Adm. Hyman Rickover, the father of the atomic submarine, has pointed out that 27 Polaris submarines could almost guar-

Meet the man who watches Moscow from Michigan Avenue

Jacob G. Tolpin, expert in the field of foreign scientific developments, often is consulted by leaders in academic, government and industrial enterprises.

He keeps tab on Russian scientific moves

WHAT are Russian scientists up to now?

Few people in America are better able to answer this question than a mild-mannered, unobtrusive man dressed like other business executives on Chicago's Michigan Avenue.

There is no cloak-and-dagger atmosphere surrounding Jacob G. Tolpin or his office.

It has been the daily job of Mr. Tolpin since 1937 to keep track of Russian scientific advances. He was born in Russia and is a graduate of the University of Kiev. He did postgraduate work in Germany and the United States. Now an American citizen, he is a key man on the staff of specialists at Standard Oil who analyze foreign technical journals and patents.

The primary purpose of this work is to keep Standard Oil research scientists informed of developments throughout the world. But the work has broader significance. Standard Oil furnishes important foreign technical data to nationally important bodies and to libraries, such as the Library of Congress. The knowledge gained from the foreign periodicals thus is made available to all.

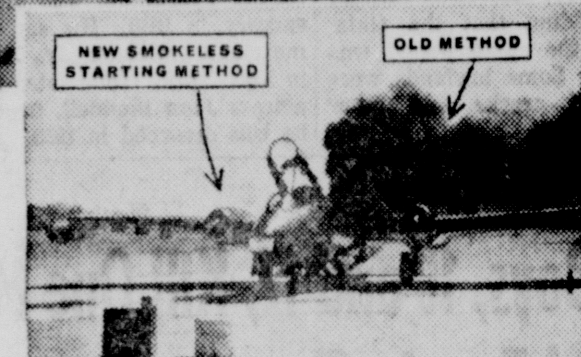

Mr. Tolpin has found it is possible to predict Russian scientific moves by careful interpretation of what is printed in the technical and news publications.

Even the Russians admit, says Mr. Tolpin, that American knowledge of petroleum technology is superior to their own. Standard's research at Whiting and other centers has resulted in many important discoveries which have helped to make America supreme in the field of petroleum and to strengthen its defenses. In the last few years alone, Standard scientists have made outstanding contributions that have advanced America's missile program and its jet air defense.

Since our first laboratory opened 68 years ago, we have spent hundreds of millions of dollars to learn more about oil—how to find it, produce it, refine it and make it more useful to more people than ever before.

What makes a company a good citizen? One measure is the contribution a company makes to the economic and physical strength of its country. Through constant and intensive research, we at Standard have tried to make oil yield its maximum usefulness—both for civilian and military purposes. Steadily mounting efficiency also has helped to keep the price of oil and gasoline down.

America's jets now have a new, improved smokeless starter cartridge (being used in the engine above, left) as the result of a Standard Oil research development. The old method, on the right, was so smoky it made concealment impossible and also blocked fliers' views of the field.

Radiation-resistant lubricants for atomic power plants are under study in Standard's research laboratories. Seymour Meyerson, above, is engaged in pioneering work in this new field. He is an authority on the controlled shattering of molecules by electron bombardment.

Couple Married Near Ridgeway Celebrate Their 6th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Fox, uncle and aunt of Mrs. Jane Bumgarner, 1010 South Ledford street, Harrisburg, celebrated their 6th wedding anniversary in their home in Sheridan, Oregon, March 14.

Mr. Fox has always been the family bread-winner, in the early years of their marriage by tilling the soil in Illinois and raising livestock and although he is 90, he is planning to plant a garden this spring. Mrs. Fox at 87, is the early riser in the family and likes to make hot biscuits. She has woven hundreds of rugs in her earlier years and helped to sell Liberty Bonds in Illinois during World War I.

Mr. and Mrs. Fox moved to Sheridan in 1920 following the first years of their married life on a small farm near Elba, Illinois, where they raised corn and livestock, most particularly mules and hogs. He recalls the time that he sold a pair of 4-month-old mules for $100 and says that is the easiest money he ever earned. He sometimes worked for others at 50c a day wages and they always had butter and eggs to sell. In this way he supported his family, raised the two children and made himself a retirement provision.

The Fox family moved to Oregon to benefit the health of Mrs. Fox, who at 87, shows that the climate has been good to her. Sheridan was chosen because Mr. Fox's two sisters, the late Mrs. Nancy Clark and Mrs. Sarah Andrews, lived there. They bought the home on Hill street where they still live and several acres of land, long since covered with homes.

Mrs. Fox came to her marriage with experience in child raising for her mother died when she was 13 and she took over the duties of the "little mother" in the home.

Although the years have taken their toll of strength and agility Mr. and Mrs. Fox are able to keep themselves and their home clean and comfortable. They "have to send the wash out now," and the new electric stove is fine because Mr. Fox can no longer cut and carry wood. The stove is their most prized possession.

Their daughter, Mrs. A. T. (Bertha) Wade lives at 122 NE Sherman street, Sheridan, with her husband "Doc." Their son, Clifford E. Fox, and his wife live in Gopher Valley, not too far distant. They have one grandson, Allen Fox, resident of Sheridan, and two great-grandchildren.

Although they do not leave their home very often any more, they are loyal members of the Sheridan Christian church.

Mrs. Bumgarner and another niece living in Willamina, Oregon, are very proud of their uncle and his "bride of 67 years."

LEAD WITH YOUR LEFT

by ED LACY

THE STORY: Although homicide believes Ed Owens, a retired policeman was murdered during a holdup, Detective David Wintino believes something in the man's past brought about the killing.

VI
Austin stood up. "I think that's all. Thank you for your time Mrs. Owens. And don't worry, we'll get the rats who did this."

"Yes, I suppose you will. But that won't bring Ed back to me. Everyplace I look I see something of his, his tools, his clothes, his beer in the icebox."

Mrs. Owens said, getting up. "Would you like to see his garden?"

"I'd like very much to see it," I said. Austin looked at me as if to say, "Shut up."

We followed her down a short hallway with two bedrooms opening off it, through a large clean kitchen, out to a back yard that was about 20 feet wide and may be 30 feet long. Except for something growing under two old windows, it was just a lot of dirt to me.

She pointed to the windows which were about six inches off the ground and walled in with loose bricks. "This is Ed's not house. I think he has some tulip bulbs growing there now. There was a moment of silence till I asked, "Mrs. Owens, did you like being a policeman's wife? The changing hours, little pay, the danger?"

She looked astonished. "Why, of course I liked it, young man. It was my husband's job. Sometimes I was worried a little about Ed but he could take care of himself. As for the pay, it wasn't much, but then what job pays enough? Best thing was it being steady, no lay-off. My father was a house painter and always working crazy hours. And near every winter there would be months when he didn't work and we'd be worried sick. Why do you ask?"

"Just wondering," I said stupidly. "Nice seeing your garden, Mrs. Owens, but we have to leave," Austin said.

When we were in the car Austin asked, "What are you conducting, a lonely hearts column for cops' wives?" Mrs. Owens did you like being a policeman's wife? For crying out loud, Wintino, you're a prize dummy."

"The name is Wintino. What's so dumb about it? Everybody keeps yapping Owens was killed by a goon, a stick-up punk. May be, but he was in an alley and never went for his gun so it might have been with somebody he was friendly, like another woman."

Austin shook his head. "Now not the Owens type. How long you been on the force?"

"Less than a year. So what?"

"You'll learn we haven't time to investigate every cockeyed angle to a case. Most times the common-sense angles are the right ones. Owens was held up and by an amateur, that's the common-sense angle. Look, by this afternoon I'll be off the case and it will be left in the open files. They'll let it stand till we get a break. You want to speculate, a guy in a flying saucer might have dropped down and knocked off Owens."

"I'll be retired like Owens was someday and I don't want to end up in an alley." Nor in a run-down flat with an ancient radio and the same furniture I had when I first moved in, I thought. Although Mom and Pa, their place is like the Owens' the inside of a poor museum.

"You married?" I asked Austin. "You starting on me? Sure I'm married."

"Wife like your job?" "I never asked her. What's with you, Watson?"

"Nothing. My wife isn't hot about my job."

He chuckled. "Wives need a slap across the teeth now and then. That's my best advice. I got out, followed him up the worn steps, nodded at the desk lieutenant, the sergeant at the switchboard listening to the calls from the post cops."

I went up to the detective room. A quiet joker named Larson was at the desk, doing some paper work. He told me, "Dave, your wife called. Wants you to ring her at her office. Called about 10 minutes ago."

I said thanks and dialed the agency. Mary said in the low voice you have to use in a crowded office, trying not to make it sound like a whisper.

"Dave? Don Tills is having two tables of bridge tonight and he's asked us over. I told you about him, one of our top copywriters, the golden boy of the office. Be a great help to me if I get in with his crowd."

"I don't mind some bridge. That all you wanted to tell me?" "Yes and to be sure and be home on time. They're counting on us to be there at 9 sharp."

As I hung up I saw Larson grinning at me as he bent over his desk. I said, "Tough for a wife to take our hours. Your wife complain much?"

"Sometimes. She's a nurse and her shifts are almost as bad as ours. But then when we do get some time together we enjoy it more."

I took off my coat and went to work on the file. Most of it was the reports of the various precinct men who'd worked on the case, all the people they'd interviewed, the few leads they'd run down — everything negative. There was a copy of Owens' arrest record, almost all of the collars made with Wales. They had been hard workers, over 1,600 cases. I went through the list fast, checking off those arrests where they'd used force, that would be the sort of stuff to make a joker want revenge.

UAW-GM Talks Open Tuesday

DETROIT (UP) — The United Auto Workers puts its 1958 contract demands on the bargaining table at General Motors Corp. on Tuesday.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, has emphasized the importance of the opening of this year's negotiations by announcing he will attend. Reuther in recent years has joined the contract negotiations only after they reached a climax.

The present three-year contract with General Motors expires at midnight May 29. Ford and Chrysler contracts expire June 1. UAW-Ford talks will start next Monday. Chrysler talks will begin Tuesday, April 1.

The union is asking for an annual wage boost of at least 10 cents an hour, bigger and longer unemployment benefit payments, a 20 per cent boost in pensions, job security and severance pay in plant closings. Industry spokesmen have said the "economic package" asked will total 35 cents an hour or better.

Says Moore Has Made $188,000 In Five Years

WASHINGTON (UP) — Rep. Peter F. Mack Jr. (D-Ill.) said Sunday night that Gordon Moore, Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower's brother-in-law, made $188,000 in the last five years from firms doing business with the government.

Mack, a member of the House subcommittee on legislative oversight, said the group will want to question Moore again.

Moore appeared before the subcommittee a week ago today and denied under oath that he ever tried to influence any federal agency on behalf of anyone.

His name was mentioned along with that of Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams in connection with charges of "improper" influence on federal agencies leveled by Bernard Schwartz shortly before Schwartz was ousted as subcommittee counsel.

The subcommittee will resume hearings Tuesday on the award of Miami Channel 10, the case in which Moore's name first came up. Federal Communications Commissioner Rosel Hyde will be the first witness.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.) said over the weekend the subcommittee actually has finished its investigation of the Channel 10 case and hopes to submit by Easter a proposed "legislative changes" in the FCC.

However, he said the group still wants to question the current commissioners and four former members who voted on the Miami award.

Wm. H. Walker Elected Potentate Of Ainal Temple

William H. Walker, East St. Louis, St. Clair County Treasurer, was elected Potentate of Ainal Temple, A.A.O.N.M.S., East St. Louis, at a special election held at the Mosque on Friday evening, March 21. The new Potentate was immediately installed as head of the 7,000 Shriners of Southern Illinois.

Potentate Walker is a native East St. Louisian, received his early training in the East St. Louis Public schools and graduated from a "sand lot" baseball player to the "big leagues."

He was purchased by the New York Giants in 1927 for $25,000, the highest price paid from the western league, until that time, for a pitcher. He played with the Giants for 5 years, then moved to the St. Louis Cardinals for 4 years. He was a member of the world championship team in 1934 and was starting pitcher in the All-Star game, in 1935, in Cleveland, representing the National League.

The new Potentate served with the United States Navy as Chief Petty Officer during World War II. Walker was an administrative assistant to Benjamin O. Cooper, Illinois Auditor of Public Accounts, and is completing a 4 year term as treasurer of St. Clair county, at the present time. He is married and has two children, Beth 12 and Billie 10.

No Cherry Blossoms for Capital Festival

WASHINGTON (UP) — Unhappy Cherry Blossom Festival officials today made Jack Frost the official symbol of their blossomless blossom festival.

Officials, glaring at the bare boughs, said the 32nd annual five-day blossom festival will open Tuesday on schedule—no matter what.

Schedules are set, reservations made, events planned and everything ready to go. It would be impossible to postpone it, officials said.

On the bright side, they noted they have 53 lovely cherry blossom princesses, 50 crack college drill teams, dozens of high school bands and many other sparkling events.

They just happen to be fresh out of blossoms.

A festival spokesman said a man dressed as Jack Frost will appear at all events, grinning on extra cold days, looking sad "if the temperature should go up." A week of temperatures in the 70's is needed to make the trees blossom.

The Weather Bureau offered little encouragement. A spokesman said the long-range forecast is for temperatures below normal. Normal is about 58.

IAA Delegates To Consider Need For Office Space

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — About 500 Farm Bureau delegates today opened a meeting of the Illinois Agricultural Assn. here to consider what should be done about the association's need for additional office space.

The IAA delegates were expected to consider the possibility of moving the IAA headquarters from Chicago to a downstate city, although such an item was not officially on the agenda.

The IAA is housed in one office in Chicago but a number of its subsidiary organizations do not have space in the same building. The IAA, which is the state association of county Farm Bureaus, now has more than 1,000 employees in Chicago.

Delegates from each county Farm Bureau in the state were called to the meeting here. Many of them were pushing for the relocation of the state headquarters in their counties.

The present Chicago location has about 80,000 square feet of office space. The IAA has estimated it will need almost twice that much for office requirements through 1963.

Wildly Cheering Fans Greet Chicago State Champ Marshall Commandos

First Title for Chicago Team in State Tournament

CHICAGO — Wildly cheering fans greeted the all-conquering Chicago Marshall cage team's return to the Windy City Sunday with an enthusiasm rivalling that of small town fans.

The school planned two assemblies today so the student body could greet the state prep basketball champions, first in the history of the state playoffs to bring the title to the Windy City. "In addition, the Commandos will be guests at several neighborhood celebrations this week.

Nearly 1,000 fans crowded around the special bus Sunday that brought the team home from Champaign. The Commandos were still flushed with victory from their 70-64 Saturday night triumph over Rock Falls in the climax of an undefeated season.

However, Marshall still has to prove its right to championship laurels as far as many Chicagoans are concerned. It will risk its prestige Friday when it opposes De LaSalle, the Roman Catholic parochial school champion, in a game for the all-city title. Meanwhile, Rock Falls fans threw a homecoming celebration for their team by staging a parade with banners that read "Best Team in the State." Nearly 8,000 persons lined the parade route Sunday to show that the Rockets still were first in the hearts of the fans.

Music was provided by bands from the 5th Army, the Dixon State Band, and high school bands from Rock Falls and Sterling. The players rode in open convertibles as American Legion color guards led the marchers.

The victory was Marshall's 30th straight this season. The only other teams to go all the way to the title without a defeat were Taylorville in 1944, Mount Vernon in 1950 and La Grange in 1953.

At the half in the 51st annual playoffs, Marshall gave it rooters a sense of impending doom. The Commandos trailed by a hopeless-looking six points, 38-32.

Fans were thrilled when the team closed the gap to two points several times in the third quarter but were never able to pull into the lead. Steve Thomas knotted the score at 47-47 with a basket from the floor and then gave the Commandos a one-point lead from the free throw line.

From then on the champs-to-be got hot, while more than 6,900 howling fans in Huff gym watched. The lead changed hands six times until Robert Jones put Marshall ahead to stay at 60-59.

Thomas and M. C. Thompson each hit a basket, and George Wilson popped in two to ice the game for Marshall. Thomas was high-point man for the Commandos with 26, while Ken Siebel led Rock Falls with 20.

Although the tourney has been played for 51 years, Chicago teams have been entered only since 1931. None of them was able to take all-state honors until Marshall came along.

Peoria Spalding's Fighting Irish took third place with a 59-53 win over Aurora West after grabbing an early 9-1 lead. The Irish stayed ahead all the way with the Black Hawks closing to a six-point deficit only as the final gun sounded.

Dave Skender was top scorer for Spalding with 20 points, while John Tull and Grayal Gilkey led Aurora with 13 and 12 points respectively.

The Irish were ahead 34-19 at the half.

Kentucky Wins NCAA Title with 'Fiddlin' Five'

LEXINGTON, Ky. — The University of Kentucky put its "Fiddlin' Five" in a niche along side its "Fabulous Five" today in celebrating its fourth NCAA basketball title in 11 years.

The Wildcats' victory was formally recognized today at a convocation attended by students, school officials, Gov. A. B. Chandler and other dignitaries and classes were dismissed for the remainder of the day.

"All we have is a bunch of fiddlers. We need violinists to play Carnegie Hall," coach Adolph Rupp said at the start of the season. As it turned out, he didn't have a soloist in the bunch, but he did have a solid outfit that made some beautiful music to gether.

There wasn't even an all conference player on the Kentucky team that came from nine points behind in the first half Saturday night to whip Seattle, 84-72, for the NCAA title in the finals at Louisville.

The "Fiddlin' Five" included Vernon Hatten, a driving guard who rammed home 30 points; Johnny Cox, a lean and lanky mountain boy; John Crigler, a solid workman at forward, and steady, reliable Adrian Smith, whose free throws accounted for what proved to be the winning points.

Order Physicians To Robinson, Basilio Corners

CHICAGO — Ring physicians have been ordered to climb into the corners Tuesday night during the Carmen Basilio-Sugar Ray Robinson title fight and prevent the use of any forbidden cogulants on face cuts.

Chairman Frank Gilmer of the Illinois State Athletic Commission made that disclosure today and added, "It will be the first time in boxing history for such preventive action."

Drs. Irving Slott and John Pribble will do the policing during this return 15-round match at Chicago Stadium in which 36 or 37-year-old Robinson tries to recapture the 160-pound crown from 30-year-old Basilio.

"We are doing this to prevent any possible repercussions in case either fighter suffers face cuts," Gilmer explained. "We believe that the managers of Basilio and Robinson have been making mountains out of molehills with their shouts about cuts, but we're taking no chances."

George Gainford, acting manager for Robinson, twice asked Gilmer during the past week to prevent Basilio's handlers from using a blood-stopper that allegedly contained chloroform and that, when rubbed from Basilio's salvaged brows onto Robinson's nose during clinches in their fight last September, "almost stupefied and blinded him."

Sugar Ray appeared today as a 9-5 underdog in the betting.

Temple Ace Leads East to 71-66 Win In Shrine Game

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — College basketball took one of its final bows of the season Sunday and it further proved the All-America ability of Guy Rodgers, the 6-foot Temple ace who led the East to a 71-66 victory over the West in the seventh annual Shrine All-Star game.

Rodgers, voted the game's most valuable player, topped the nation's finest senior basketball players in points with 17 and harassed the opposition with fancy ball-handling and stolen passes. He got big help from Indiana's Archie Dees and North Carolina's

Two Marshall Players On All-Tourney Team

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — Two players from Chicago Marshall's championship team made the United Press All-State tournament's high school basketball squad selected by coaches of the teams in the meet.

Rock Falls, Aurora West and Danville Schlarman gained the three spots on the first team. The U. P. all-tourney team was selected Saturday night by the tournament coaches.

Marshall's sophomore 6-6 center, George Wilson, only 15 years old, was the unanimous choice of the coaches. His teammate, Robert Jones, 17, a 5-11 guard, also was selected.

Others named were Gary Kolb, 18, 5-10 senior guard from Rock Falls; Jerry Kuemmerle, 17, a senior guard from Danville Schlarman; and Phil Small, 16, junior guard from Aurora West. Kuemmerle set a new tournament individual scoring record of 49 points in a single game.

The second team: Ken Siebel, 17, junior forward from Rock Falls; Dave McGann, 17, senior guard from Peoria Spalding; Tom Cole, 16, junior center from Springfield; Richard Box, 18, senior guard from Herrin; and Larry Essonpreis, 17, senior forward from Highland.

Others who received votes in the balloting included Jim Cain, Rock Falls, Grayal Gilkey of Aurora West, Jim Gualdoni of Herrin, John Schwenk of Aurora West, John Tate of Aurora West, and Mike Haley of Spalding.

Pete Brennan who gave the East control of the backboards by a 49-40 rebound margin. Dees got 13 rebounds and Brennan 12.

By coincidence, both Dees and Brennan matched their rebound totals in points. Mike Farmer of San Francisco was the West's top rebounder with 10.

The West, paced by Hub Reed of Oklahoma City University with 11 points and Arkansas' Fred Grim and Kansas State's Jack Parr with 10 each, outshot the East from the floor by a percentage of 34.9 to 32.9.

All-Tournament Honors Heaped On Xavier Squad

NEW YORK — All-tournament honors were heaped on members of Xavier's surprising National Invitation Tournament champions today, along with predictions that the upset kids from Cincinnati will once again be a national basketball power next season.

Hank Stein, whose six points in the overtime period carried unseeded Xavier to its title-winning 78-74 upset of top-seeded Dayton on Saturday, was the only unanimous choice today on the all-NIT team picked for the United Press by 21 sports writers covering the tourney.

Secondteam honors went to three more Musketeers: little Ducky Castelle, rebounding ace Frank Tartaron, and pop-shooting Joe Viviano.

Stein won the "Most Valuable Player" award given by the tournament committee.

Frank Case, the sharpshooting soph who was Dayton's big gun, just missed unanimous selection as he received 20 first-team votes and one for the second team. Other first-team picks were Jim Cunningham of Fordham, Don Lane of Dayton, and Alex (Boo) Ellis of Niagara.

Also picked on the second team were Jack McCarthy of Dayton and Al Seiden of St. John's.

Burdette Faces Only 9 Batters In 3-Inning Stint

By United Press

Lew Burdette, the Milwaukee Braves' "best bet" in the 1957 World Series, hasn't lost a bit of the pitching skill that mesmerized the New York Yankees last fall.

The tall right hander from Nitro, W. Va., faced batters for the first time this year Sunday after a long holdout siege and made only 25 pitches in racking up three hitless innings at the expense of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Burdette faced only nine batters and allowed only one batter to hit the ball out of the infield in pitching the Braves to a 4-0 victory over the Pirates.

Skowron Hits Grand Slam

Meanwhile, the Yankees, led by big guns Mickey Mantle and Bill Skowron, rallied for five runs in the eighth inning to beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 9-6. Skowron belted his third homer of the spring, a grand slam, to highlight the rally, while Mantle accounted for his fifth round-tripper in the third inning.

The Chicago White Sox, who are going to need all the extra-base hitting they can get out of a lineup dominated by singles hitters, coasted to a 14-5 win over the Cincinnati Redlegs with Ron Jackson driving in six runs on a pair of homers. The win, the White Sox' eighth, snapped a three-game losing streak.

Tigers Down Cards

Shutout pitching by Frank Lary and Hank Aguirre and Bob Lemon's first test of the spring after an arm operation brightened the hopes of the Detroit Tigers and Cleveland Indians somewhat.

Lary worked seven frames and Aguirre the last two as the Tigers downed the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-0. Lemon hurled two innings while testing his salary wing in a "B" game against the Chicago Cubs, won by the Indian "B" squad, 10-1. The Cubs varsity, however, built up an 8-0 lead early and went on to score a 10-8 victory in the second game of a twinnbill at Tucson, Ariz.

Elsewhere the San Francisco Giants defeated the Baltimore Orioles, 8-5; the Boston Red Sox scored two runs in the seventh inning to shade the Philadelphia Phillies, 5-3, and the Kansas City Athletics buried the Washington Senators, 7-1.

Celtics 'In', But Pistons Cut Hawks Series Lead

By United Press

The Boston Celtics are virtually "in" as Eastern Division playoff champions in the National Basketball Association, but a stunning upset has halted the St. Louis Hawks' attempted runaway in the Western Division.

The Celtics took a 3-0 lead in the Eastern finals Sunday by trouncing the Philadelphia Warriors, 105-92, as big Bill Russell set a probable playoff record with 40 rebounds.

But St. Louis, which had opened the Western finals with a pair of three-point wins over the Detroit Pistons, was handed a 109-89 beating on its own home court Sunday to cut its series lead to 2-1. George Yardley paced the Piston triumph with 31 points, 17 in the first quarter. They meet again Tuesday at Detroit.

The first United States census was taken in 1790.

In Remembrance

In loving memory of my dear son, Charles McClusky, who passed away five years ago today, March 24, 1953:

You called for me, son, and I was so slow,
Not because I didn't care, it was just that I didn't know.
You were all alone and so far away, you must have suffered so.

Remembrance is a golden chain
Death tries to break but all in vain.
To have, to love and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of our hearts.
The years may wipe out many things,
But this they wipe out never:
The memory of those happy days
When we were both together.
I cherish the loving remembrance
Of one I will never forget.
His memory to me is a treasure,
His loss a lifetime regret.

Sadly missed by his mother, Mrs. John Gabel.
